

Omaha Down Syndrome Parents Network
Special Educator Award

Do you know someone who's worthy of nomination?

The Omaha Down Syndrome Parents Network awards a $1,500 prize to a deserving educator in the Metro area. The award will go to an outstanding member of the profession whose work exemplifies the best in special education teaching. This may include significant educational success for students, continuing professional development and/or the highest standards of educational quality. The educator can be nominated by students, families, professionals or their peers.

If you are interested in obtaining a Special Educator Award application, you may contact ODSPN at (402) 991-1800 or download an application at www.odspn.org. Deadline for applications is March 31st, 2008.
